How you help your clients, not sell to them

How you help your clients, not sell to them

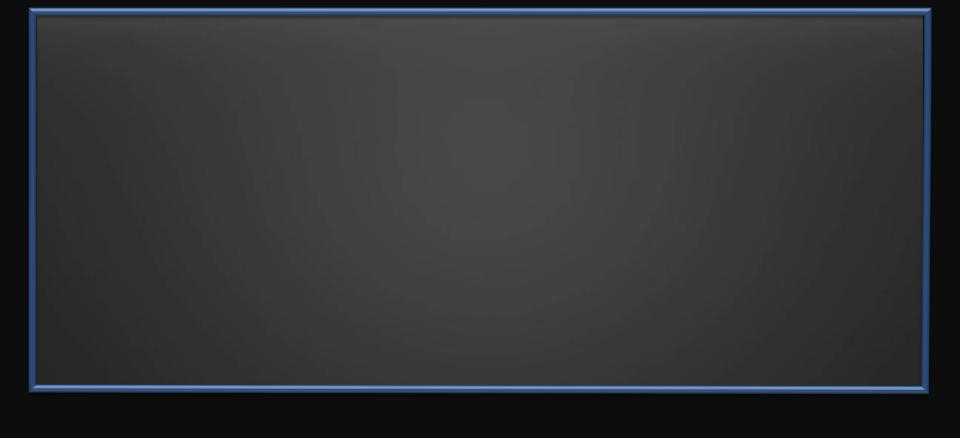

How you help your clients, not sell to them

Clearly articulate how you help your clients

What is your uniqueness in your market

Why do your clients come to you?

Who are you connected to?

Using existing resources to re-engage with your network

- ❖ Is your database up to date and relevant?
- How will you reach out to engage? Email, Messanger, Facebook, Linked-in, Tic Tock
- Send prospects something new

Creating Connection

- ❖ Reach out to your connections (go back at least to 2018)
- Check in on what is new with them (everyone has changed in some way over the past several years)
- Share something new with you that relates to them.

Easy content curation tips

- Find videos/ articles that are relevant to them and share (choose a cycle of touch points that work for you)
- Follow them on Social Media and respond to their interests
- Create a resource page (your products, offerings and other vendors/ experts that may serve them)

Successful video marketing tips

- Record testimonials and attach them to your email
- Use a video recording tool to record a personalized greeting to your buyer
- Demonstrate your products being used by the end user

How to we recognize and get support

Create a Mastermind group

Find people who serve your same buyers and create joint ventures
